This Honor Roll, circa 1919 was dedicated to our World War One Soldiers. It was made of wood, probably by a local carpenter. 89 names of those who served their country were painted on metal strips. Stars denoted 3 casualties; Franklin Filkins, George Finch, & Harry Hutchinson.

A granite memorial was constructed in 1927 which bore the names of 96 who served their country in World War One. At a later date 4 copper cannon balls were added to the top of the monument. This monument now stands on the Northville Village Green.

The above is a small bowl about 4 1/2 inches across the top. It is a souvenir from Sacandaga Park. It was donated by Stephanie and John Cook for our museum. On the bottom is says, “Wheelock Made in Germany for Frank A Hamwey”

Presentation of another historical plaque in the village, to Shea and Al Lauria for their beautiful old historical house built in 1902.

Last month the doctors of the Town of Northampton were featured in the NNHS Newsletter. I asked you folks if I’d left any doctors off the list. In talking to Jane Gritsavage Gardner, she informed me that I had left one out. His name is Dr. Frank Stashak. His office was in Dr. Gritsavage’s house/office, in the 1940’s. He was Dr. Gritsavage’s nephew. He was in Northville for only a year or two, so add him to your list of doctors.

Another wooden honor roll was constructed during WWII and also stood on the Village Green. I will feature that memorial in next month’s newsletter.

DOWN MEMORY LANE
Remember the water fountain and the phone booth?

Third page of the newsletter with articles about World War One and World War Two memorials, a small bowl from Sacandaga Park, and a historical plaque presented to Shea and Al Lauria for their beautiful old house.
Do you remember the Circus coming to town?

John R. Van Arnam of Northville had his own circus and often brought it to his home town.

Visit our museum and see more pictures and find out more about the circus that came to Northville.
